–Visit Follansbee at Booth #454–

FOLLANSBEE, WV...Follansbee will exhibit at the 25th Annual Build Boston Trade Show and Convention, November 18-20, at the Seaport World Trade Center, Boston, MA.

“Build Boston features workshops dedicated to meeting the challenges and opportunities of the 21st century,” says Edward Thomas, vice president and general manager of Follansbee.

“Follansbee helps meet these challenges by designing versatile, sustainable and long-lasting products like TCS II, KlassicKolors and a range of other architectural roofing products and accessories.”

Build Boston focuses on industrial construction and design, bringing together building owners, architects, engineers, contractors, interior designers and landscape architects.
